

Anastazios "The Remains of Shade"

Subways Music presents composer Anastazios' first album, a production of his own (originally released in 2008 by "Music Mirror"), which is now re-released and available for digital download via Subways Music (2017).

The twelve distinctive compositions of this album lure the listener into an enigmatic journey, with elements from different countries, sound combinations, experiences, and desires. Instruments of various musical trends, such as accordion, violin, bass, marimba, drums, etc. co-exist with orchestral forces, while the presence of delicate electronic sounds embraces the intense, outspread melodic lines.

"The Remains of Shade" is an album with melodies which, while imbued with the classical music tradition, they step further into the territory of easy-listening, folk and new age music, leaving the impression of a soundtrack with Mediterranean feeling.
